Campbellsville College

Upward, Onward and Beyond!

Enrollment at Campbellsville College has reached the second highest level in the College's history.

Campbellsville College enrolled 1,042 students this fall, according to President Dr. Kenneth W. Winters. He said this figure is a 3.1 percent increase over last fall's enrollment.

This fall's full-time equivalency number is up to 903.

Only once has the College's enrollment ever exceeded 1,042, said Winters. In 1966, 1,079 students were enrolled.

Winters said it is the College's goal to break this record by 1994 and to reach an enrollment of 1,200 by 1996. He said that 1,200 is an "optimal" enrollment for a school such as Campbellsville. With 1,200 students, the College would be able to maintain its "family atmosphere," he said.

Winters said that the many "new dimensions" of the College are largely responsible for the high enrollment this fall. "It's an exciting time to be here," he said.

Winters said several options are being offered at Campbellsville that have not been offered until recently. This marks the first year for the College's Tiger Marching Band and for the master's of arts in education program in curriculum and instruction in which 29 students are enrolled.

This is only the second year for Campbellsville College's soccer and cross country teams and the third year for the swim team. Other new additions at the College include a communications program, an organizational administration program for non-traditional students and extension classes at the Marion Adjustment Center and at area high schools and industries.

With a higher number of students, Winters said there has been some need for expansion. Four new faculty positions have been created. The residence halls have received new furnishings, new lighting and new rest rooms. Classrooms in the Administration Building are being refurbished. And, Gosser Fine Arts Center has been completely remodeled.

"Students are attracted to a school that is succeeding," said the president. "People want to become a part of success."

Winning athletic teams, new academic and athletic programs, Christian environment, new campus scenery — these successes are working together to make our school more visible in the public, Winters said.

Campbellsville College is researching the feasibility of adding a nursing and/or engineering program, according to Winters.

He said that the College is planning to add other majors to its master's of arts in education program and is considering forming a master's program in the area of business.

"Campbellsville College is an institution that one can be proud of," Winters said.

'Will the real president please stand up?'

What do a college president and a senior student have in common?

Everything — when they change roles for a day.

Dr. Kenneth W. Winters, president of Campbellsville College, and Jamie Ward, a senior from Pleasant Plain, Ohio, found out what the song lyrics "walk a mile in my shoes" meant as they traded places during a Student Foundation fund-raising project Feb. 10.

Winters, recognized on campus as a "hands-on" president who says students are the College's first priority, carried Ward's torn maroon backpack containing two notebooks for the two classes on Ward's Wednesday schedule.

Winters "became" Ward and sat in on two classes, American Government and Experimental Psychology, checked in the Campus Ministries Office as president of the Baptist Student Union, ate lunch in the College Dining Hall, attended weekly convocation and played pool — what Jamie would do on a typical Wednesday.

Winters hadn't taken a class in about 10 years but said it felt "very natural" sitting in a classroom. He was "very impressed" with the quality of instruction he saw.

Winters sat in the back row corner of the American Government class and heard Dr. Bill Bennett, chair of the division of social science and professor of political science, discuss freedom of religion.

Winters took notes and was quiet in the classroom.

In Jeanette Parker's psychology class, Winters sat in front and participated in group discussions. During class, President Ward "looked in" on new student Winters.

Ward, who awarded himself an honorary doctorate and parked in Winters' reserved parking space, demonstrated his presidential power by addressing convocation and giving each student present credit for two convocations. He also vowed to "take care of" all parking tickets given to all students during the day.

Ward, dressed in a suit and tie, maintained office hours, met with the College's vice presidents and other College personnel.

Constantly looking at his watch, Ward tried to keep on schedule as he dealt with phone calls, appointments and drop-in visitors. It was more than he expected, and both he and Winters learned a lot.

"I assumed a president sits back and signs papers all day," said Ward. "Not so."

"I was totally exhausted at the end of the day," he said. "Being a president is more than being part of an administration. It means being able to have successful relationships."

"I think it was a big thing for Dr. Winters to go along with the 'President for a Day' and take a day out of his busy schedule. It shows that he is looking for the betterment of the students."

Ward learned at 11:30 a.m. the previous day that he had been chosen by students, faculty and staff to serve as "President for a Day," a program conceived by John Paul Blair, director of financial development, and sponsor of the College's Student Foundation.

Students were the candidates for the College's chief office. Blair said that the Foundation wanted to "serve as a link between the student body and the administration."

"This is the first of many new and exciting things the Student Foundation is going to bring to our campus. We want the 'President for a Day' to be an annual event."

One major lesson of the day for Ward was that the students need communication with the administration.

Campbellsville College students were given a questionnaire at convocation and asked to voice concerns and praise for Campbellsville College. Ward addressed these concerns with Campbellsville College Vice Presidents Dr. Robert S. Clark and David Gray.

The cost of tuition, the meal plan, lighting, parking, more snack areas and the need for scholarships for non-traditional students were among the concerns voiced by the students.

Ward said he was very pleased with the seriousness of the questions.

Ward said he learned some of the reasons behind the administrative decisions by talking with Clark and Gray, and he urged finding a way to "bridge the gap" with communication.

The questions raised by students, and many more, were proposed to Winters as Winters, Ward, Winters' wife, Shirley, and Brooke Williams, ate dinner together at the Cumberland House.

Winters said Ward will give him a summary of the day's questions and these will be discussed with the College's administrative council.

Winters said the "President for a Day" is a way for the institution to grow, and "I look forward for the program to continue. It was a total success."

Welcome Back!

Many shouts, screams and squeals could be heard across campus Sunday, Aug. 23 as students moved into the residence halls.

Phrases like "How was your summer?," echoed through the air. The summer was gone, and once again, Campbellsville College was coming alive with activity.

Continuing with tradition, the first week of school was again designated as "Welcome Week." The week of activities, sponsored by the Student Government Association and Baptist Student Union, helped students ease back into another year.

Sunday afternoon, after students had moved in, they could treat themselves to some ice cream. The social, on Stapp Hall lawn, was a huge success. Later that evening, a special Praise Celebration program by the BSU was presented. The students, new and old, got a chance to see the new BSU Council for the first time.

To celebrate "Welcome Week" Monday night was the mixer. This took place in the form of a dance held in the Dining Hall. Tuesday was the annual BSU picnic at Green River Lake. Much food and volleyball was found at the lake. Once again, this was well attended.

Campbellsville Baptist Church sponsored a picnic on Stapp Hall lawn Wednesday evening. A large crowd attended the picnic. Afterwards, a short service followed on the lawn.

Thursday evening was the pep rally. It was the first time the campus was introduced to the new Tiger Marching Band.

Friday night, the students were treated to the Campbellsville College Singers' home concert. This was a time where students could be ministered by music and fellowship.

Closing out the week on Saturday night was the first ever "Saturday Night Live." Students performed various sketches to entertain the audience.

Welcome Back!

Aug. 31-Sept. 4 was "Freshman Week," a week for freshmen to be introduced to the fun and fellowship of college life.

Freshman Week is sponsored yearly by the senior class and is intended to get the new students acquainted with the old.

Freshman Week 1992 started out slowly compared to past years, according to Senior Class President Kellie Post. However, she said student involvement "really picked up" toward the middle of the week.

Freshman Week is annually sponsored by the senior class to help "acquaint freshmen with the campus." Post said that the week gives new students an opportunity to meet upperclassmen in an informal setting.

In short, Post said, Freshman Week is

"just for fun."

The senior class planned several senior/freshman activities for Freshman Week 1992. Monday night there was a scavenger hunt. Tuesday night was the senior/freshman water olympics.

"The New Student Auction on Wednesday night was well-attended," said senior Joey Foster. According to Post, 25-30 new students, faculty and staff members were auctioned to seniors. The "slaves" were made to obey their senior "masters" on Friday by wearing certain things.

Post said one student, Eva Floyd, was made to wear her pajamas and carry a teddy bear around campus. Tony Cress, North Hall residence hall director, and Tracy Smith, campus ministries intern, two new staff members, spent "Dress Up Day" in Tennessee attire.

Thursday night was a night of charm and poise as seven of Campbellsville College's finest took to the stage to flaunt their talents and grace at the All Male Review. Several gentlemen competed in the beauty pageant. Each contestant curtsied, answered an interview question and gave a talent presentation.

The winner of the Male Review was William J. Doerr. Curtis Barnes was first runner-up. Joey Foster was second runner-up. This Freshman Week, as always, is one to remember for a long time.

This year the Student Government Association decided to do something that would help freshmen to adjust to college life easier. Student Government Association came up with a program called "Freshman Friends" when an upperclassman would agree to show a freshman around for a couple of weeks. There was a huge response to this. Monday of Welcome Week, there was a "Freshman Friends" get-together in the theater. The new students got to meet their friends for the first time. Because of the response, Student Government Association members said this will be a continuing tradition on campus. Above, from left, senior Jennifer Tinnell and freshmen Sarah Wilson and Laura Clem get involved in an ice-breaker during the "Freshman Friends" night of Welcome Week. "According to the grace of God which is given to me, as a wise master builder, I have laid the foundation, and another buildeth thereon." I Corinthians 3:10.

Founders' Day 1992 was a day for Campbellsville College alumni, faculty and students to look back on the heritage of the College and appreciate "the foundation" on which the institution was built.

About 680 people gathered at Campbellsville College Wednesday, Sept. 16 to celebrate Founders' Day.

"When one looks at Campbellsville College, one has to be impressed," said alumnus Billy Smith, who presented historical notes during the program.

Dr. Brad Johnson, a 1982 alumnus, who delivered the Founders' Day address, said that in order for Christian higher education to succeed there must be "a wedding of faith and learning."

Johnson said it is important that a college has a good start, but it is necessary that a college has a good finish.

After Johnson's address, Dr. Kenneth W. Winters, president of the College, officially dedicated the new clock tower/carillon.

"The gift from Campbellsville Industries and Schulmerich Carillons Inc. has already dramatically changed the looks of our campus and will have an impact on the students' hearts for years to come," said Winters.

The Founders' Day program was presented outside in the area in front of the carillon. Following the formal ceremony, there was a luncheon for faculty and alumni in the Student Activities Center.

Building homes and lives together with Christ

Thirty-one students and six adults traveled to Jeanerette, La., the week of March 13-19 to help with the Hurricane Andrew relief.

The students questioned whether or not it was actually spring break because the group left in the "Winter Storm of 1993."

Those on the mission trip spent three days rebuilding and repairing floors, roofs and ceilings on a trailer and a home that was hit by the hurricane last fall.

Water damage and termites were the most harmful effects of the hurricane. Because the roofs had been damaged, not only did they have to be replaced, but also the insulation, siding, walls and the floors.

A group of students also spent half a day building a porch onto a trailer and clearing the land at the site where they stayed.

The facilities in which the group stayed in were not the Ramada, but after seeing the conditions in which these people had lived in since November, they were grateful for what they had.

The cooperation this group had was incredible. Individuals either found out for themselves or asked others what needed to be done, and did it. It is amazing what can be accomplished when people with a common goal come together.

Those who attended the trip were Wendy Amiet, Patrick Ashcraft, Curtis Barnes, Jen Bethel, Scott Borowick, April Carter, Tara Celani, Rick Clapp, Tony Cress, Larry Finn, Bethney Foster, Joey Foster, Robin Frisbee, Angie Geraldts, Matt Gosser, The Rev. Strike up the band!

The fall of 1992 brought a new addition to the Campbellsville College campus. For the first time, Campbellsville College had its own Tiger Marching Band. Dr. David McCullough was the director, and Brian (B.C.) Clifford was the field commander.

The Tiger Marching Band consisted of both music majors and non-music majors. Many of the members were students who had been in a marching band during high school and wanted to continue in band. The Tiger Marching Band brought many talented, new students to Campbellsville College.

The band began with a strong start. After months of planning, the band held a pre-season camp prior to the first week of the fall semester. During this time, members learned the new show and music. For many members, who had not been in high school band, this was also a time to learn to play a new instrument and to learn marching techniques.

There was excitement all around the band as they lined up on Stapp Hall lawn on the morning of Saturday, Sept. 5. The drums began to play the cadence and before the band was called to attention you could hear cheers of excitement from the band members who had worked so hard during the previous weeks.

The Tiger Marching Band marched into the stands at the Tiger Stadium for its first performance at a home football game amid cheering fans and proud smiles. The Tiger Marching Band took the field for a half-time show with a strong performance that made many Campbellsville College students, alumni, faculty and friends proud.

The Tiger Marching Band continued through its season as strong as it began. They performed at several home football games and performed in an exhibition at a high school marching band contest. The band began preparing for its fall 1993 season as soon as the 1992 season was finished.

'Something Old, Something New'

Excitement was in the air as the week of Homecoming grew closer. Plans for the 1992 Homecoming activities were started early in the summer and because of this and further planning, the week of Oct. 5-10, was a huge success. The theme for the week was "Something Old, Something New," and everywhere one looked one could see this theme being carried out effectively.

The entire week was full of fun, games and celebration. The week focused on school spirit building up to the pep rally. Over 200 students and faculty members were at the rally and bonfire.

Beach Night started the week Monday evening. Many students congregated on Stapp Hall lawn for the festivities. Group games and fruit drinks added to the fun.

The first ever Western Roundup Night was on Tuesday evening. This included a country-western dance, the learning of several two-step dances, food and fellowship.

Banana Split Night was Wednesday evening in the College's Dining Hall. This, as in years past, was a huge success. Drove of hungry people flocked to the Dining Hall for the ice cream.

Mystery Night was scheduled for Thursday night. Students were given a clue that, if solved, would lead them to another clue, placed somewhere throughout town. The object was to collect all 12 clues and be the first back to President Dr. Kenneth W. Winters' home.

On Friday, Cotton Ivy, a comedian who is also the commissioner of agriculture with the state of Tennessee, entertained at the annual alumni banquet. "Academic Excellence Awards" for teaching were awarded to Janice Greathouse, assistant professor of English, and H.R. Richardson, a part-time instructor in biology. The Homecoming queen candidates were also recognized.

Following the banquet, and closing out the school week, was a pep rally and a bonfire. Many students gathered behind the annex to support the Tiger team.

Homecoming Queen 1992

Jessica Eulanda Rodgers

Saturday morning, Oct. 10, marked the third annual walk-around parade. To have a candidate on the court, the representing organization had to have a booth. National Education Association-Student Program and the Tiger cheerleaders tied for the "Best Booth" award.

Many fans and alumni came out to enjoy the festivities and were entertained by a variety of people. For example, both the Stephen Foster Singers and the Sweet and Sassy Cloggers performed during the morning for the crowd.

Saturday afternoon, the football game between the Fighting Tigers and the University of Findlay Oilers was played. The Tigers fought long and hard but were defeated 28-7.

Crowned as the new Homecoming Queen was Eulanda Rodgers of Liberty, Ky. Rodgers represented North Hall and was very excited to win and honored to represent the school. Also winning was first runner-up Jennifer Tinnell of Edmonton, Ky. She represented the Tiger Marching Band. Representing the Baptist Student Union and second runner-up was Tiffani Merrick of Nicholasville, Ky. Freshman attendant was Cicely Maggard of Louisville, Ky.

The other members of the court and who they represented were Tammie Gibson, Harlequins; Lee Anne Noble, Campus Baptist Young Women; Melissa Miller, Church Music Conference; Sosomphanh (Pon) Thongmanivong, World Community Club; Betty Jo Tharp, Sigma Zeta; Regina Campbell, NEA-SP; Staci Black, Cheerleaders; Kristi Roark, Junior Class; Sherri Wingler, Phi Beta Lambda; Tammy Luttrell, Stapp Hall; Katie Adams, Psychology Club; April Carter, Senior Class; Brooke Williams, Student Government Association; Leslie Potterfield, Sophomore Class, and Lori Wolf, Fellowship of Christian Athletes.

'What a NERD!'

Campbellsville College's drama department and the Harlequins presented the play "The Nerd" Nov. 5-7.

Director Russ Mobley billed the play as a "delightful comedy that you will not want to miss."

"Described by some as the funniest play ever written," Mobley said, "the action centers on the hilarious dilemma of a young architect who is visited by a man he's never met but who saved his life in Vietnam."

Mobley said the unknown visitor turns out to be an incredibly inept, hopelessly stupid "nerd," who outstays his welcome.

The cast included Mike Richard as Willum Cubbert, Dawn Welch as Tansy McGinnis, Hal Lloyd as Axel Hammond, Chris Streets as Warnock Waldgrave, Erin Dudgeon as Clelia Waldgrave, David Bailey as Thor Waldgrave and the famous nerd was played by Tom Pound. Assisting in directing was Cindy Martin.

The play was written by Larry Shue and had a long run on Broadway in New York and has won several awards.

College presents 'our gift to you'

"Our Gift To You" was the theme for the 1992 Christmas Celebration. Held in the Powell Athletic Center, Coach Beauford Sanders and his Tiger Baseball Team served an estimated 650 members of the College family.

Opening the evening with "The Gift Goes On" were the Campbellsville College Singers followed by a blessing of the dinner by Marc Whitt, director of public relations, publications and sports information.

Following the dinner, the Campbellsville College Concert Chorus sang "The Many Moods of Christmas." Led by Dr. James Moore, the chorus sang a 45-minute tribute to the holiday season.

Shirley Winters, wife of President Winters, treated the children to a Christmas story while they anxiously awaited their visitor from the North Pole. Who else but Santa Claus, this year played by Zandell "Ziggy" Newton, College custodian, did the children tell their dream toy to as the dinner festivities came to a close.

The annual Snowflake Ball was in the Student Activities Center immediately following the dinner. Students danced the night away at the event sponsored by the Student Government Association. As the clock tower struck 11 p.m., the king and queen were crowned. Ja Montgomery and Brooke Williams were crowned Snowflake King and Queen. As the evening came to a close, students wished all a good night and a Merry Christmas.

Campus revival is 'real and radical'

"Something Real, Something Radical" turned into "Really Radical" by the end of the 1993 Campus Revival.

The four-night, campus-wide services Feb. 1-4, led by Steve Ayres and Ed Norman, drew a large crowd of 130 students, faculty and staff members for the final evening.

"The revival brought in students from all across campus to share and support one another," said Tommy Johnson, director of campus ministries. "And that is what a family is all about."

J.J. Montgomery, along with many other students, gave testimonies or words of encouragement to everyone before Ayres brought the message. Ayres and Norman are from Hillvue Heights Baptist Church in Bowling Green, Ky.

"Campus revival was not what I expected and that was good," said Tamara Marsteller, a junior from Benton, Ky. "I felt like I was part of the revival and that reflected in how much it helped me grow as a person both spiritually and mentally," she said.

Campus Week of Prayer was the week prior to the revival Jan. 25-28. "The purpose was to focus on a designated time to pray for one another, as well as for our campus," said Johnson. "Students shared with me that the Week of Prayer was a meaningful week, and we hope to keep up the tradition."

The Week of Prayer was not just for the revival but also to pray for the Baptist Student Union Mission Trip to Louisiana and any other concerns that were on the students' hearts.

When asked about the Week of Prayer and revival together, Johnson said, "It was a highlight of the year and brought a real spirit to this campus that the students will never forget."

'My Emperor's New Clothes' plays

The Harlequins presented "My Emperor's New Clothes," a musical play for children Feb. 18-20. Dawn Welch, a drama student from Bardstown, Ky., directed the play and was assisted by Cindy Martin, a drama student of Campbellsville. The play was under the supervision of Russ Mobley, director of theater, and the musical director was Tommy Davenport.

Chris Streets played the title role of the emperor. Kim Pruitt played the princess. Other cast members were: Mike Richard, Pony; Veronica Duka, Skreech; Scott Burress, Clodney; David Bailey, Scout; John Davenport, first man; Jeremy Holt, second man; Jennifer Creason, weaver; Jeannine Hurst, mother; Wynn Harris, son; Sara Parrott, little girl, and Jaclyn Shields, young girl. The townspeople and chorus consisted of Kristi Sapp, Eden Davis, Tina Massingill, Liz Goodwin and David Holt.

The 1993 Valentine's Pageant was a "Night of Magic" for Andrea Deaton.

Deaton represented the Lady Tiger Basketball team and sang Patsy Cline's "Sweet Dreams" in the talent competition.

As Valentine Queen, Deaton was eligible to represent the College in the Mountain Laurel Festival.

From the 13 contestants, Kristi Roark was the first runner-up and Tiffani Merrick was the second runner-up.

Roark represented the Junior Class. She was the talent winner with her vocal presentation of "Orange-Colored Sky," and she was named Miss Congeniality.

Merrick represented Stapp Hall and performed the rap "He Works." Her escort, Scott Borowick, was named Best Escort.

“The sun will come out tomorrow, bet your bottom dollar that tomorrow, there’ll be sun.”

The Campbellsville College drama department presented the musical “Annie” April 23-26.

“Annie” is a story of an orphan girl who wants to find her real parents. The only clue

she has is a silver locket that she wears around her neck. She visits a rich businessman, Oliver Warbucks, and decides he would make a good father, but she can’t forget her true identity. The evil owner of the orphanage, Miss Hannigan, hears about a reward for any information about Annie’s true parents, and starts to conduct a plan along with her brother, Rooster, and his girlfriend, Lili St. Regis. As the plan unfolds, it is quickly seen that it is a scheme and the three are discovered and arrested.

Annie learns that her true parents are dead; she is adopted by Warbucks and all ends well.

At top right, Trent Argo, as Lt. Ward, returns Annie, Jaclyn Shields, to the orphanage and Miss Hannigan, played by Jan Sapp, after Annie runs away to find her parents. President Franklin Roosevelt, Dr. Kenneth Martin, center, seated, insists that his cabinet sing “Tomorrow” as they learn some optimism from Annie. The "Sea of Love" was the theme for this year's Spring Formal. The decorations, put up by the members of the Student Government Foundation, were beautiful. Held annually, the formal is a time for students at Campbellsville College to have fun and relax before finals begin.

A large crowd was in attendance and several people commented that it was the best formal yet. Joey Foster, president of SGA, and all the senate members should be commended for their hard work and effort at making the Spring Formal such a success.

Mr. and Miss Campbellsville

Joseph D.W. Foster and Julia Carol Vaughn

Graduating senior Joey Foster said, "It feels good to be recognized as someone who exemplifies the characteristics of Campbellsville College."

Foster and Julie Vaughn, both of Campbellsville, were named Mr. and Miss Campbellsville College during Honors and Awards Day April 28.

To be a candidate for the Student Government Association sponsored Mr. and Miss Campbellsville College, students must be graduating seniors with at least a 3.0 grade point average and 60 credit hours at Campbellsville College. The faculty and administration then vote on the students they feel are most deserving of these titles.

Vaughn said she felt "relieved and excited" to be receiving her college degree. Vaughn received her bachelor of science degree in business administration with a minor in music at commencement May 8.

Foster received a bachelor of science degree in political science with a minor in economics and chemistry.

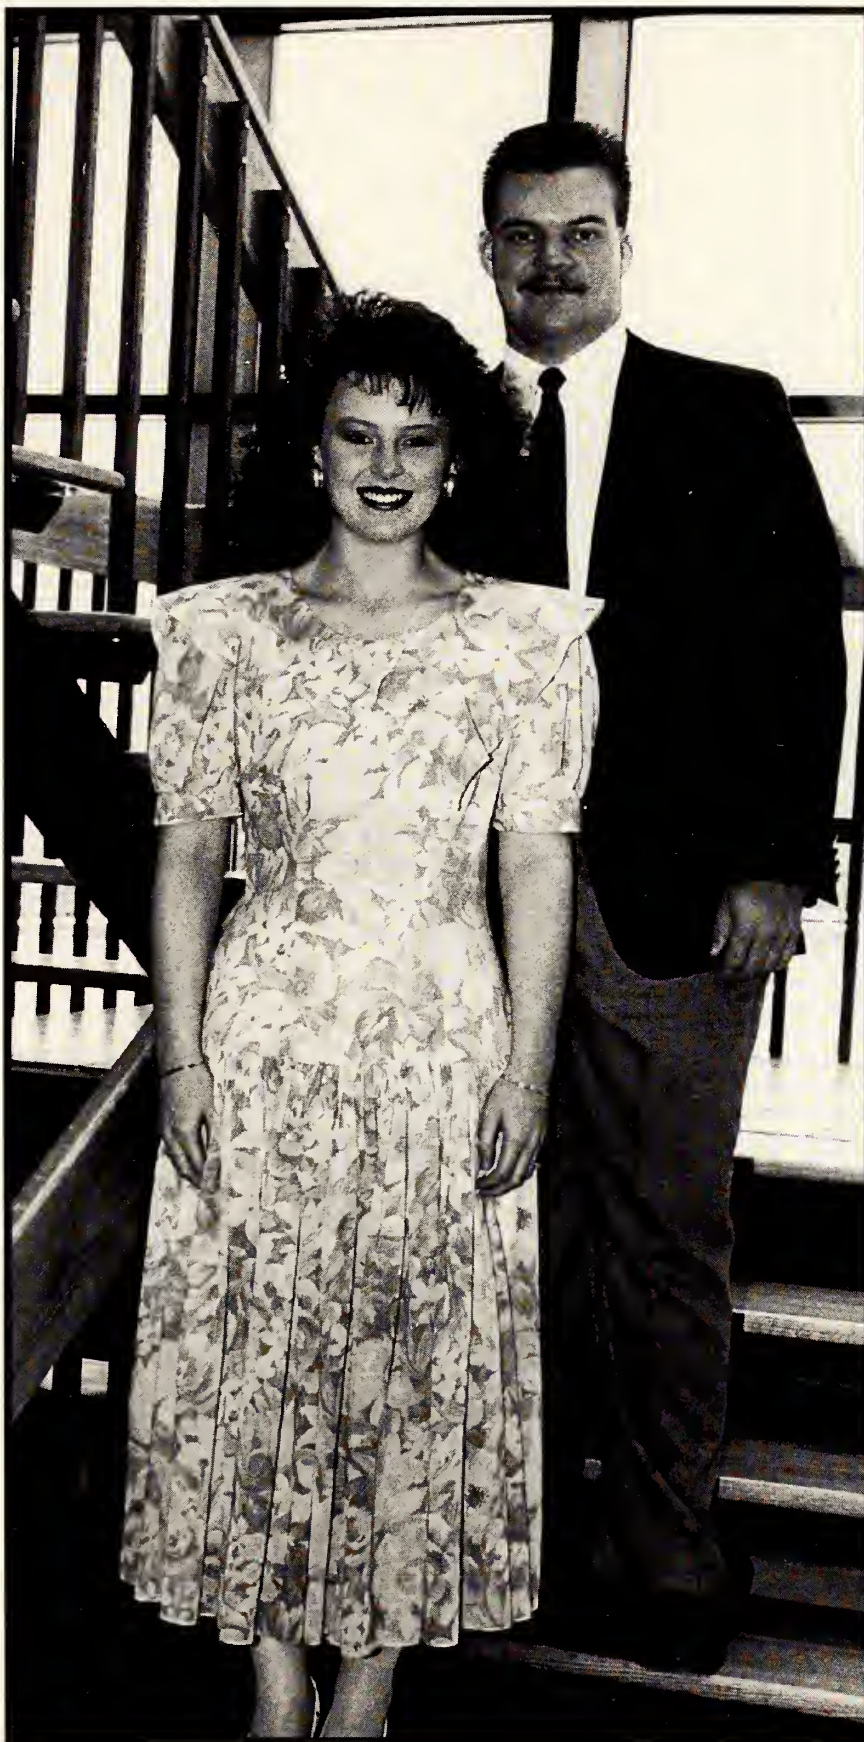

"It's a little different for me," Foster said. "I've been a part of the Campbellsville College family for eight years."

Foster is the son of Joe D. Foster, assistant professor of economics, and Margaret W. (Margie) Foster, director of bookstore, print shop and postal services at Campbellsville College.

"I'm leaving my family," he said. "I'm excited to have reached this point, but I will not be with my family as much."

Foster's future plans include attending law school or graduate school with the hopes of someday being involved in public service.

"I think the reason I was

drawn to Campbellsville College was because of the student atmosphere. I really felt like this was where God wanted me, and I really wanted to be a part of an institution that was changing and moving in a positive direction," Vaughn said.

While at Campbellsville College, both Foster and Vaughn were active in campus organizations and activities.

Vaughn was a member of the Collegiate Chorale, Concert Chorus and Handbell Choir and the recipient of the Campbellsville College Women's Club Scholarship. She was the vice president of her freshman class, 1992 Valentine Pageant Queen, received best talent in the Valentine Pageant, represented Campbellsville College in the 1992 Mountain Laurel Festival and made the academic honors' list several times.

Her future plans include going back to college to become certified to teach in elementary education. She graduated cum laude.

Foster was vice president of the SGA in 1990-91 and president in 1991-92 and 1992-93. He was vice president of the Baptist Student Union in 1991-92. He was a member of the Handbell Choir, Jazz Band since his sophomore year in high school, Concert Band, Marching Band and Midwest Model United Nations.

He was named to "Who's Who Among Students in American Universities and Colleges" in 1992.

Foster was chairman of the Valentine Dance and Spring Formal for two years, was student representative to the Board of Trustees in 1991-93, was Senior Campaign Co-Chair of VISION 2000 II and graduated cum laude. He also received several awards at Honors and Awards Day.

Senior Class

In April 1992, the members of the Senior Class were already preparing for their last year of college. Officers were elected and included Kellie Post, president; Katie Adams, vice president; Tamara Marsteller, treasurer, and Carlene Leonard, secretary.

The members of the Senior Class were preparing to cross a milestone in their educational careers — graduation. The class prepared itself for this long-awaited event throughout the year.

Class members ordered and received their class rings which served as a symbol of all of the hard work that they had done through the years. They were also fitted for caps and gowns, and then the final step — receiving and sending out invitations.

These seniors were known for their superb leadership and guidance by the underclassmen as well as the faculty.

UNDERCLASSMEN

Junior Class

Being a junior is not all fun and games. This was evident as the class moved further through the year.

Most general education classes were over, and it was time to choose a major and/or minor in the field of one's choice.

For many, that choice was hard enough to make by itself. This was a year for many to get down to work on their studies and to keep up their grades.

After having completed two years of college, it would seem that during one's junior year one could sit back and take it easy. Not so! If anything, the junior year proved to be as much or more hectic than the first two years.

The juniors started to accept responsibility as they realized the end of their college careers was coming quickly to a close. This responsibility was shown through their election of officers and other class decisions.

At right, those elected as officers are from left, Jagath Mathupala, treasurer; Sandeep Nandkeolyar, secretary; Rick Clapp, vice president, and Tara Celani, president.

The Sophomore Class makes up a large portion of the students on campus. This class seems to be very strong and dedicated to the College because many of the sophomores hold exclusive positions on campus.

This year at the walk-around parade during Homecoming, sophomores worked at an old-fashioned lemonade stand as a fund raiser. They also hired a professional photographer to take pictures. These were very successful in raising money for the class.

The officers for the class are Becky Mishler, president; Gail Siler, vice president; Leslie Potterfield, secretary, and Brian Clifford, treasurer. These students were selected by their peers to represent them on campus.

The Homecoming representative for the sophomore class was Leslie Potterfield who was escorted by Jason Davis.

Scared and excited were two verbs to describe the Freshman Class.

Coming to a strange and new place not knowing anyone was a definite disadvantage of being a freshman. Making friends was a must and then settling into a daily routine of classes and studying was another aspect of college.

The first week of classes was spent registering and purchasing books and materials. The first full week of classes was designated as Freshman Week. This week was filled with silly initiations by the seniors to the freshmen.

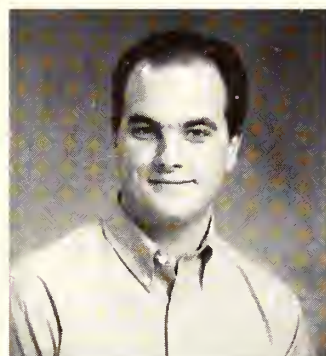

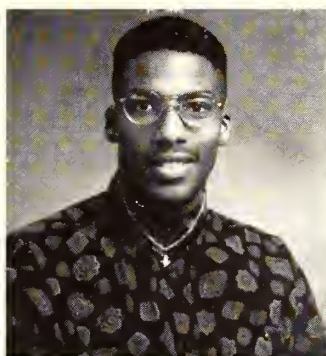

Throughout the year, the freshmen held a voice in what was going on and in what was happening on campus. They elected officers and representatives to the Student Government Association Cabinet.

Master's program soars in 1992

Twenty-nine students registered for Campbellsville College's first master's degree program.

Dr. Kenneth W. Winters, president of Campbellsville College, was pleased with enrollment and said, "The new master's degree program further demonstrates Campbellsville College's desire to serve the educational needs of our community and region.

The master's program adds a tremendous new dimension to our total educational efforts."

Winters said that providing graduate studies was a "logical next step for Campbellsville College."

Campbellsville College's undergraduate and graduate enrollment for fall 1992 was 1,042 — the second highest in the College's history. There were 187 people attending extension classes offered by Campbellsville College in various sites in the state.

The new master of arts program is in curriculum and instruction for teachers.

Dr. James Lee Howard, chair of the division of education and professor of education, was instrumental in getting the College's program up and running.

"Campbellsville College's master's program allows graduates of our College and surrounding colleges a convenient place and time in which to secure their degree," said Dr. Robert S. Clark, vice president for academic affairs and dean of the College.

"It helps students in collaborative learning because they learn from teams, and it helps fulfill the Kentucky Education Reform Act," said Clark.

The master's program gives "availability of full-time professors as advisors and mentors to students and the program," he added.

The master's program is a two-year program, with a total of 30 semester hours, and each academic year devoted to the completion of the core education curriculum and the summers devoted to completion of work in discipline areas.

To help add support to the program, there were significant new faculty and library additions.

Registration and classes began Aug. 31, with a total of 29 attending. Classes met every Monday from 6 to 9 p.m.

Tiger Football at its best!

Football Tigers have breakthrough season

Campbellsville College's Fighting Tigers ended its 1992 season with its first share of the Mid-South Conference title.

The Fighting Tigers finished the regular season with a 7-3 record and with what many consider to be the toughest schedule in the nation. Campbellsville ended with a 4-1 conference record tied with Union College and Georgetown College. Campbellsville defeated Georgetown College, last year's national champions, in a classic battle on the final day of the regular season. That game gave them the conference co-championship. Campbellsville finished the season with a number 20 national ranking, their highest ranking ever.

"We felt we earned a shot at the playoffs but that didn't happen. At least we (seniors) can be proud of leaving this school with its first ever conference title," Steve Lovelace, senior defensive captain, said.

Linebacker Ernie Garrison (46) pulls down an offensive attacker and is assisted by teammate William Richardson (53). Defensive end Bryan Cross (90) prepares for another Tiger tackle. After a touchdown run late in the first half against Tusculum College, Rodney Turpin celebrates.

Back row — Manager John Wheat, statistician Matt Jenkins, Van Berry, Ben Kelly, Michael Defoe, Doug Turner, Sammy Watene, Steve Hawkins, Terry Wright, and manager Stephen Woodell. The Tigers were fourth place in KIAC and District 32 Tournament runners-up finishing with an overall record of 20 wins and 12 losses.

The 1992-93 Campbellsville College Men's Basketball Team brought to the campus an exciting season. Although the Tigers started somewhat slow, they turned up the heat as they clawed their way to a final overall record of 20 wins and 12 losses, finished fourth overall in the Kentucky Intercollegiate Athletic Conference (KIAC) and were District 32 tournament runners-up.

After an opening round victory over Union College, the team defeated archival Georgetown College and faced the Indians of Cumberland College for the District 32 championship and the right to travel to Kansas City for the National Association of Intercollegiate Athletics (NAIA) National Tournament. Although the Tigers never gave up, it just wasn't quite enough as Cumberland squeaked by with a one-point win.

Returning for the Tigers were Sammy Watene, the team's lone senior; juniors Benji Kelly, Roy Booker, Ramont Smith, Steve Manning and Terry Wright, and sophomore Derieco Irvin. New faces included Steve Hawkins, Van Berry, Kevin Burton, Jermaine Lee, Ray Wilson, Michael Defoe and Doug Turner.

Watene provided the Tigers with experience and prowess around the basket. The senior from Kenya closed out a fine career with a solid season. Paired with Kelly, the duo combined to give Campbellsville College a deadly one-two punch. The Tigers were far from being a two-man team, however, as the others also contributed greatly to the team's success. The team relied heavily on an up-tempo game plan as they shot a lot of three point field goals and applied pressure defense.

With only one senior graduating, the future looks well for Campbellsville Head Coach Lou Cunningham's Tigers as they will be hungry and on the prowl for more wins on the hardwood next season. The 1992-93 Tigers gave all of us something to cheer about!

Lady Tigers do it again!

Lady Tigers capture their fourth consecutive district title

The Lady Tiger basketball team headed for the NAIA National Tournament for the fourth straight year.

The Lady Tigers headed both, District 32 and the KIAC, and remained undefeated throughout the season in both. After an early loss to Arkansas-Monticello in the Flying Queen's Classic, the Lady Tigers were practically unstoppable and went 23 consecutive games without losing a single one. They concluded their season with a very impressive 25-5 record.

They also earned the respect of the national pollsters by rankings as high as #9. As a team the Lady Tigers really lit up the nets from 3-point range. They were ranked #1 in the nation in 3-point shooting percentage and shot over 47% as a team. They were also ranked in the top ten nationally in field goal percentage by shooting over 49% from the field.

The two seniors, Kendra Germain and Jody Criswell, ended their collegiate careers by scoring their 1,000th point during the regular season and leading the Lady Tigers to their fourth straight title. As a sophomore, Andrea Deaton also scored her 1,000th point and she was named NAIA All American.

Even though the Lady Tigers didn't win the "Big Prize," Coach Donna Wise said of her team, "This team stayed focused. They never let anything stand in their way." Wise added "We've built a tradition here." She also noted that Campbellsville College has produced 1 All-Americans in 13 years. "We have a great following from the College and the community and all of us are very appreciative of it!"

Lady Tigers march into Jackson

For the fourth straight year, Coach Donna Wise leads her troops into the National Tournament.

After 23 consecutive wins and dominating play during the District 32 Tournament, the Lady Tigers headed to Jackson, Tenn., to take on the nation's best teams in hopes of a national championship.

Led by All-American Andrea Deaton and seniors Jody Criswell and Kendra Germain, the Lady Tigers ended a three-year stretch of having to leave after the first round by beating a bigger Simon Frazier team, 91-76.

The second round wasn't so kind to the Lady Tigers, as their season ended with a 76-70 loss to David Lipscomb. Coach Wise said of her team, "Our kids showed great sportsmanship. No matter what our record was, the most important thing to me was to see them achieve." She also added, "The chemistry of this team was the best I've ever experienced. It was a great experience."

Tiger Baseball

Tigers not pleased with this year's performance

Coach Beauford Sanders could only describe the 1993 baseball season as being "very disappointing." His Tigers came off of a 26-20 1992 season and winning the Western Division Championship in District 32 and finished the 1993 season with a 20-21 record.

Their season was filled with bad luck and bad weather. This included a numerous amount of rain-outs and, while on their way to South Carolina for spring break, the Tigers were stranded on the highway for over 20 hours because of the huge winter storm.

After a very strong start in the district (8-1), the Tigers could only win two of their last 10 and ended up 10-8-1 in the District 32 play. The month of April was the downfall for the Tigers as they lost 11 games during that month. Eight of the 11 came by games decided by two runs or less.

"There wasn't the same bond this year that tied the 1992 team together," said

Sanders. "We had tons more talent this year than last but couldn't tie it all together."

This season was the last one for seniors: co-captains Kirby Smith and Larry Lipker, Todd Cook, Mike Goff, David Hicks and Mike Thomas.

Catcher Robbie Sumpter and infielder Danny Breeden were named to the First Team All-District. Infielders Goff and Travis Wootton were named to the Second Team All-District.

Lady Tiger Softball

Getting in the 'swing' of things

This year was the re-establishment of the Lady Tiger softball team. In the spring, tryouts were held to determine who would make the team. Twelve girls were chosen to play.

The team was coached by Ginger High, a former student and assistant basketball coach. The girls worked hard and were dedicated. The season record was 9-12.

Tiger Sharks show improvement

The 1992-93 Tiger Sharks Swim Team showed that hard work and determination are keys to success. Although as a team there were not many accolades, the team had one swimmer advance to nationals, and the team showed improvement as the season progressed.

Shanae Netherland qualified for the second year in a row for nationals, which were held in San Antonio, Texas. Although she did not win, Coach Dean Brownley said it was a real honor for her to advance to national level.

This year's team consisted of Ryan Allen, Dan Bailey, David Bailey, Edwardo Bocatto, Tom Pound, Rich Smith, Loren Wingfield, Mike Young and Netherland. Highlights of the season included a third-place finish at the Appalachian Conference meet and runners-up at the District 32 meet.

The team also performed well at the Southern States meet in Davidson, N.C. where several swimmers had career best races. Wingfield, Pound and Netherland were also named to the Southern States All-Academic team. With experience on their side and a few new faces coming next season, Brownley said the Tiger Sharks have reason for hopes of an outstanding year.

Lady Tiger Tennis Team

Getting into the swing of things

Photos by Jamie Ming

Campbellsville College's Lady Tiger Tennis Team had a year to be proud of in 1992.

With a final record of eight wins and eight losses, the team had improved tremendously by the end of the season. They finished fourth in the Kentucky Intercollegiate Athletic Conference Tournament and an impressive third in the District 32 tournament.

Coach Donnie Milby put this successful team together at the last minute with only two returning players. However, he had eight team members to letter in the sport.

Milby was proud of this year's team effort and is hoping to get some good prospects for next year to build a larger women's tennis team.

The Lady Tiger Tennis Team was led by Sosomphanh (Pon) Thongmanivong as the number one seed, who finished the season with a record of seven wins and six losses, and Lesley Ross as the number two seed. Rounding out the top six seeds on the team were Diane Colvin, number three seed; Paula Humphress, number four seed; Chastity Yarberry, number five seed, and Jenny Bratton, number six seed.

Coach Milby and the Lady Tiger Tennis Team will be losing three seniors after this year. Seniors Thongmanivong, Humphress and Holly Hall will not be returning next year. About the seniors, Milby said, "Pon started with nothing but classes, but she loved the sport and worked hard during the summer. Paula, although she has a year of eligibility left, will be student teaching next year. She was a member of the 1990 and 1991 tennis teams and was a valuable asset to this year's team. Holly has shown tremendous improvement this year."

Tennis team has good season despite bad weather

The 1993 men's tennis team enjoyed a successful season. Although the weather was not always favorable during David Parsons' eighth season as the Tigers' tennis coach, the team still had some memorable moments.

Individually, the number one-seeded player in singles was W.D. McCubbin. According to Parsons, McCubbin was one of the top three players in District 32. The double pairings for Campbellsville were W.D. McCubbin and Childers at #1, Jiffar and Gough at #2 and Phil McCubbin and Montgomery at #3.

Tigers are running the race

In only its second year, Campbellsville College's Cross Country Team had a strong showing at the Asbury College meet.

Sophomore Amy Houk, a second year runner, won a trophy for her 12th place finish. Patrick Foster, also in his second year, placed 14th, also winning a trophy.

Coach Dr. Bill Bennett, professor of political science and chair of the division of social science, said his team "ran hard since the beginning of the season and improved their performance each week" and is "enthusiastic" about this year's team. New team members are sophomore Patrick Ashcraft, freshman Darren

Childers, sophomore Jason Davis and junior Nathan Williamson.

The returning runners are Bryan Bennett, Patrick Foster, Tom Pound and Amy Houk.

Bennett said the team's "overall spirit" is "good" and that the team is practicing to achieve its goals.

Soccer team builds foundation in two years

The soccer team started where they left off last year with youth and inexperience, but things are starting to change. They began the year under the coaching of Dean Brownley, the first-year coach from Louisville. Right away Brownley set the goal of winning just one game because the team went winless for their first season.

"The team was very young, only one junior," said Brownley. "We had to pick up players who hadn't played in a while."

During opening practices Brownley said he knew they needed to learn fundamentals. So, from that point on, he started them all over.

The soccer team did not have a stellar year, 0-12, but Brownley let everyone know that what the team lacked in skill, they made up for in desire.

"This is the hardest working team I've ever coached," Brownley said, "and with weights and hard work in the off season, plus a little luck with recruiting, I feel that next year will be a prosperous one."

Cheerleaders just say GO!

The 1992-93 Campbellsville College Tiger Cheerleaders undertook the task of creating a new image for the Tiger Cheerleaders.

A talented group of young men and women tried out for the squad in the spring and summer. The squad was comprised of seven women and four men. The squad also utilized the Tiger mascot.

"With the 'new look' and dedication of the '92-'93 cheerleaders, the cheerleaders have been very successful this year," said Donna Pierce, secretary in athletics and sponsor.

They practiced several hours each week, worked hard each game and improved tremendously throughout the season. They cheered at all football games and basketball games (men's and women's) while attending the district tournament games, also.

The cheerleaders' hard work paid off this year. They traveled to Murfreesboro, Tenn., to attend a Universal Cheerleaders Association camp. This was the cheerleaders' first trip to the camp, and they did a super job Pierce said.

The Tiger cheerleaders won a third place trophy for sideline in their division at the camp at Middle Tennessee State University.

Pierce said, "They were up against squads with greater numbers, but there was not a squad in the entire camp that had more heart or greater eagerness to learn."

She said squads from Louisiana State University, Memphis State, University of North Carolina, University of Arkansas and Morehead State University were a few of the better known squads participating.

The cheerleaders also held a camp and clinic on campus this past summer.

The members of the squad include Mark Hughes, Leigh Neat, Sunshine Raley, Stacy Davenport, Richie Stratton, Dawn Welch, Staci Black, Misty Sandefur, Tara Celani, Mike Young and Chris Easterling.

Tiger Golf

Golfers work hard but come up a few strokes short

Although at times the golf team was not very competitive on the links, the team members never gave up. The team showed steady improvements over the course of the season with lots of practice and hard work. Experience and some new faces for next season should provide help, according to Coach Donna Wise. Team members included juniors Kevin Burton and Pat Reed, sophomore Paul Godbey and freshman Scott Sandidge.

The Student Government Association is an organization on campus that is compiled of a small group of students with leadership ability. SGA meets on a regular basis and discusses a variety of issues that concern the campus and its students.

Some topics brought up before the Senate have been financial aid, parking spaces, and other issues that can benefit the College. SGA also sponsors many activities on campus. They play an active role during Homecoming. SGA also sponsors all of the dances and many of the evening functions on campus.

Harlequins

The Harlequins is an organization on campus that takes a special interest in drama. The members of this club are interested in acting, stage designing, directing or some other aspect of the theater. They sponsored the fall play "The Nerd."

The Harlequins are active on campus as well as on the stage. The group participated in the BSU YouthFest in September, by entertaining the crowd with their version of the origin of humor, taken from a Monty Python spoof. They also were involved with Homecoming by staging a jail cell as their fund raiser. Their candidate was Tammie Gibson.

The Baptist Student Union is one of the largest clubs on campus and holds activities two nights a week.

On Monday nights two activities alternate. They are "Fun in the Son" and "Creative Worship." These nights are a time of fellowship and fun with the focus on Jesus Christ.

Another activity of the BSU are grow groups. This is a group who meets at a time and a day chosen by the group. They meet in hopes of growing closer to each other and God by sharing with one another.

BSU is also involved in many activities on campus. They sponsor the picnic at Green River Lake and hold an annual campus revival. They also organize a praise celebration called "YouthFest."

The BSU is also involved in a summer mission project. This year the club formed a penny war to collect money for summer missions. The object of "Beauty and the Beast" is to put pennies in a jar marked with whatever sex the giver is. This gives them positive points. When anything other than a penny is placed in an opponent's jar, it results in negative points.

Republicans Club

Campbellsville College is proud to add to its list of outstanding organizations, the Republicans Club. Starting with only seven weeks of school left, the group had major plans for its members. Activities included a cookout for primary election weekend, guest speakers including Randall Phillips, county clerk for Taylor County, and helping register students to vote.

The College had a previous Republicans Club several years ago, but this one is new and improved. "This was all headed up by students, and I think we have some real potential for leaders in this club," said Bob Himes, associate professor of history, sponsor of the club.

The group plans to have a campus-wide voter registration in the fall of '9 and to get involved in future campaign for Republican officials in this area. They are looking to grow in numbers and want to be known in the community for their support and willingness to help others.

Midwest Model United Nations

Each year, since the early 1960s, Campbellsville College's Midwest Model United Nations organization participates in the MMUN Conference.

Students and faculty advisors travel to St. Louis, Mo. to participate at the function, role-playing as politicians from various countries and debating topics relating to the appropriate country. Each student is scored on originality, as well as persuasive ideas, negotiation techniques and public speaking.

The MMUN was founded by Campbellsville College in 1963, under the direction of the late Dr. Fred R. Yoder, and is totally run by the student body, who selects the board members. MMUN serves as an educational purpose, as well as offering opportunities for leadership and research. Each student attending Campbellsville College is qualified and encouraged to attend. The faculty advisor for this event is Dr. William Bennett, professor of political science and chair of the division of social sciences.

Special features of MMUN include: Model International Court of Justice, Model International Press Delegation, Staff Resource Center (known as Home Government), dedicated team of volunteers in conference, crisis simulations and UN speakers.

Teachers under construction

Campbellsville College's chapter of the NEA-SP is an association for education majors. The organization allows its members to become more involved in their profession.

The program gives education majors many opportunities to gain insight into their profession. Several on-campus workshops such as the process of site-based decision making and multi-cultural education experiences give future teachers a chance to gain knowledge in their chosen field.

Members of NEA-SP demonstrated their community support in 1992 by participating in service projects such as collecting Toys for Tots and helping with the relief effort for victims of Hurricane Andrew.

NEA-SP members also display support for Campbellsville College as was evident during Homecoming. The club's booth was a co-winner at the walk-around parade. The winning booth had available information on the Education Reform Act in Kentucky and many old constitutions were displayed.

Stapp Hall, Campbellsville College's residence hall for women, was under new leadership in 1992. Brenda J. (B.J.) Merritt-McClung took on the job of director of Stapp Hall, which has proven to be a challenge.

Residents of Stapp Hall were happy to hear about the new ice machine provided for them in the basement when school began in August. This is just another one of the many improvements Stapp Hall has seen in recent years.

Phi Beta Lambda

Phi Beta Lambda is organized for, but not limited to, Campbellsville College business administration, accounting and office management students. Any student with a business major/minor or an interest in business may join.

It is intended to provide opportunities to meet and work with other students with similar interests, and to learn more about the students about to enter the work force. The club maintains a challenging program.

The club challenges its members to improve their interpersonal and social skills. Events this year have included Homecoming activities and Phi Beta Lambda State Conference in Louisville, Ky.

North Hall, one of Campbellsville College's residence halls for men, is also under new leadership this year. Anthony (Tony) Cress is the new director of North Hall.

North Hall residents participated in the Homecoming 1992 activities. Their theme for their booth was Hawaiian and to carry out this theme they sold tropical drinks. The booth drew a lot of attention and compliments because of its decorations.

The residence hall's candidate for Homecoming this year was Eulanda Rodgers. North Hall residents really stood behind their candidate this year — in fact, they united together and saw Eulanda win.

Music Educators National Conference

Music Educators National Conference is a professional organization that helps its members prepare for music education as teachers.

MENC is a very active group on campus. They participate in several service projects such as the Church Music Conference in a

"get-to-know-you" picnic. They have also done a few fund-raising projects to attend the state convention.

The MENC participated in the Homecoming events this year. They, along with the Tiger Marching Band, chose Jennifer Tinnell to represent them on the court. She was chosen first runner-up.

"Being a member, I believe the club is a valuable asset to my future because of the information that will help me in the future," said member Kim F. Daniels.

The purpose of AALL is to educate people about African Americans. Many of the difficulties of Americans arise from a different result of misunderstandings among people of different races and cultures. In an educational effort to keep Americans more socially aware, this club, African American Leadership League, educates Campbellsville College students, faculty, administration and staff. This organization is an educational instrument with both the social and intellectual heritage of the African American. To the left, JusAustin Lane announces the club at a convocation.

Math and Science Club

The Math and Science Club and Sigma Zeta extended a welcome this year to anyone who had an interest in the areas of math, biology, chemistry, computer sciences, physics and/or any related fields in these areas to join the club.

There are no special requirements to be a member of the Math and Science Club, however, those members of Sigma Zeta must have 15 completed hours in the math, science or computer information systems area, a 3.0 grade point average in the stated areas and an overall GPA of 2.75.

The club does several activities throughout the year. Some of them include guest speakers such as Dr. Greg Burg of the University of Kentucky and the "Adopt-a-Highway Program."

The Math and Science Club members for the 1992 school year are, from left: First row — Linda Clore, Anissa Holman, Sosomphanh (Pon) Thongmanivong, Deborah Hinton, president, and Jennifer Keene, secretary/treasurer. Psychology Club

Campbellsville College's Psychology Club is a young club that continues to gain student interest. In fact, interest level and club membership was at an all-time high in 1992.

With the support of head advisor Jeanette Parker and assistance from Dr.

Ralph Tesseneer and Richard Draper, the psychology club had a successful booth and a great time at Homecoming 1992. The theme of the club's Homecoming booth was "We're all a little nuts sometimes" with club members passing out free samples of Planters' peanuts.

But while club members have fun, they are serious about the goals their club wants to accomplish. Club members participate in many community service projects such as helping with the Special Olympics each year and collecting clothes for needy families.

Alpha Rho Tau

Alpha Rho Tau, or the art club, is an organization on campus for art majors and minors or anyone with an interest in art. The club emphasizes such issues as how to succeed as an artist and how to prepare for an exhibit.

Alpha Rho Tau is active on campus. They sponsor many art shows throughout the semester and are involved in many fundraising projects. The organization hopes to raise enough money to take a trip to an art museum.

Recently, the club was recognized for its work at the Green River Arts and Crafts Festival.

Freshman art student Jeremy Suchman said, "The club is a great challenge for everyone involved to come up with new and creative ideas to stir community involvement in the fine arts."

Campbellsville College's television station, or TV-4 as it is known, is a great addition to our campus.

It is a low-power television station that serves the community of Campbellsville, as well as the College.

With original shows such as "What's Cooking, Neighbor?" hosted by Ed McGuire, "Tigers' Den" hosted by Tom McClendon, and "Rafferty!" hosted by Ron Rafferty, the station informs and entertains.

TV-4 also airs special Campbellsville College events such as sporting events and coverage of other campus events and activities.

The staff and students who bring TV-4 to the College and community should be recognized for the effort they put on television.

The Campbellsville College Student Foundation is composed of energetic sophomore, junior and senior students working in cooperation with the administration to enhance the image and build upon the successes of Campbellsville College.

Working under the motto "Students Helping Students," it is their desire to help others through the creation of Student Foundation Scholarships. Funding for these scholarships is met through special events such as "President for a Day" as well as other events and fund-raising vehicles.

The Student Foundation was founded under the direction of the office of financial development to serve as a link between students, administration, faculty, alumni and friends. It was organized for the purpose of enlisting outstanding students to promote the general welfare of the College, work in harmony with the long range goals of the College and develop a program of activities to foster academic excellence and tradition, as well as pride and loyalty in Campbellsville College.

Student Foundation officers for 1993-94 include: Amy Phillips, president; Chris Kidwell, vice president; Pam Mardis, operations director; Eulanda Rodgers, treasurer, and Vicky Haydon, communications director.

Fellowship of Christian Athletes

The Fellowship of Christian Athletes' purpose is to present to athletes and coaches, and all whom they influence, the challenge and adventure of receiving Jesus Christ as Savior and Lord, serving Him in their relationships and in the fellowship of the church.

The students at Campbellsville College have been very active at the local and state level of FCA. Several have attended various Weekend of Champions, College Advance and summer camps. Two honors bestowed upon Campbellsville College this year were given at the 1993 FCA State Awards Banquet. Haywood Riner received College Coach of the year and Becky Mishler received Female College Athlete of the year.

This year the club raised money to go to the many events by having a bake sale. The officers and other members baked cookies and brownies to be sold. The sale helped them go to College Advance in Jabez, Ky.

The club is sponsored by Coach Haywood Riner.

"Do you not know that in a race all the runners run, but only one gets the prize? Run in such a way as to get the prize. Everyone who competes in the games goes into strict training. They do it to get a crown that will not last; but we do it to get a crown that will last forever. Therefore I do not run like a man running aimlessly; I do not fight like a man beating the air. No, I beat my body and make it my slave so that after I have preached to others, I myself will not be disqualified for the prize." 1 Cor. 9:24-27

Campbellsville College Singers

The Campbellsville College Singers were selected by audition in the fall semester. The 1992 Singers were Mark Hughes, Tim (Tee) Pass, Jennifer Kearns, Leslie Mitchell, Tonya Morris and Amy Musselman.

The theme for the Singers was "Stand Together," and together they made several resolutions. They dedicated themselves to encourage others, to grow spiritually, to be a positive influence, to make Christ their life and to be radically saved.

As a group, they also formed some goals for the team. They wanted to assume nothing and to communicate everything, to look for the light even in the darkest tunnel, make common courtesy a common thing, to be flexible, to "work hard, play hard" and to divide everything equally 600%.

Collegiate Chorale

Collegiate Chorale is a co-ed musical group made up of students interested in music. Auditions, for the group, are held each spring for singers and handbell soloists.

In the summer of 1992, the Chorale took a European tour. Much fund raising was done in preparation for the trip. The students got a chance to explore a different country and learn new cultures.

Each spring, the Chorale performs a home concert. This is a chance for the local community and campus to view the group's hard work and dedication.

Campbellsville College's jazz ensemble announced the schedule for its fall tour Nov. 16-19, according to Dr. Robert Gaddis, associate professor of music and chair of the division of fine arts at the College.

The ensemble, under the direction of Gaddis, began their tour on Monday, Nov. 16, at Butler County High School. During that week the group appeared at Parkway Plaza Mall Center Court, Madisonville-North Hopkins High School and at Marion County High School. The tour's final concert was at home in Campbellsville College Alumni Building's College Theater. The concerts were open to the public.

The jazz ensemble presented music from the swing era and from the contemporary jazz idiom. Their music also included vocal solos from contemporary Christian repertoire.

Members of the jazz ensemble include: Jon Rafferty on alto sax; Hal Lloyd on alto sax; Beth Witthuhn on alto sax;

Brian Bishop on tenor sax; Connie Jo Pruitt on tenor sax; Kelly Bauer on tenor sax; Christal Stooksbury on baritone sax;

Scott Elliot on trumpet; Chris Waters on trumpet; Angie Geraldts on trumpet; Gina Perkins on trumpet;

Jennifer Tinnell on trombone; Mitch Gaddis on trombone; Scotty Burns on trombone; Matt Gordon on trombone; Brian Clifford on trombone; Joey Foster on trombone;

Jimmy Workman on guitar; John Miracle and Corky Mohedano on bass; Valerie Owens on piano; Jay Padgett on percussion; Shawn Huff on drums, and Paula Humphress on vocals.

The Carpenter's Apprentice is a singing group made up of current and former college students.

Carpenter's Apprentice members are selected during an audition. This insures the great talent the group has year after year. Director Dr. Robert Gaddis, associate professor of music and chair of the Fine Arts Division, does a fine job of selecting and then working with the selected singers.

Each year the Carpenter's Apprentice perform a free concert for the public where the group can showcase its talent.

Concert Band

The Campbellsville College Concert Band was composed of college and two high school students this year.

Their annual concert was Monday, April 26 in the College Amphitheater.

The band's first selection was "March from Carmen." Jennifer Tinnell was a featured soloist.

The second selection was "Blue Bells of Scotland," also featuring Tinnell as a soloist.

"English Folk Song Suite" was a selection that featured the three English songs "Seventeen Come Sunday," "My Bonny Boy" and "Folk Songs From Somerset."

Original Dixieland Concerto was a selection that featured several soloists. Beth Witthuhn was featured on clarinet, Scott Elliott was featured on the trumpet, Tinnell was featured on the trombone, Chad Creech was featured on the tuba and Shawn Huff was featured on the drums.

Selections from "Phantom of the Opera" was the band's fifth selection. This is by Andrew Lloyd Webber and arranged by W. Barker.

"Bayport Sketch" was performed as a percussion ensemble.

"Manhattan Beach" by John Phillip Sousa and "Festive Centennial" by W. Francis McBeth, ended the concert.

Concert Chorus

The Concert Chorus is a group made up of 42 students who are interested in choral music. Dr. Mark Bradley is their director.

The Concert Chorus does a cantata or oratorio every year but were really challenged this year with their performance of "The Seven Last Words of Christ."

The Concert Chorus featured 13 soloists this semester. This gave the students performance experience in recital settings.

Paula Humphress and Hal Lloyd were featured in "Requiem." Ginger Fuller, Kenny Dillingham, Ricky Gearlds, Kevin Durham, Billy Gregory, Doug

Thompson, Kimberly F. Daniels, Jimmy Workman, Jay Padgett, Mike Bowen and Erin Dudgeon were soloists in "The Seven Last Words of Christ."

Everyone from freshmen to seniors were featured in the Concert Chorus this year. Bradley said that many students come to Campbellsville College to get more performance opportunities so the chorus purposely tries to allow for each student interested to get some recital experience.

Nevalyn Moore, Sharla Pochodzay and Valerie Owens were the accompanists for the Chorus and worked with them throughout the semester.

Section leaders for the Chorus this semester were Paula Humphress, Dudgeon, Gearlds and Lloyd. These people helped the conductor in teaching music to their section.

The Concert Chorus does one performance each semester. In the fall of 1993 the chorus is planning a special performance of "Messiah" by Handel. This is being planned with a baroque orchestra and Bradley describes it as "a real treat."

The Campbellsville College Handbell Choir represents the College primarily in churches and church-related meetings. Students must audition for membership.

The Handbell Choir is one of the premier groups in the nation. Most of the members also belong to the Campbellsville College Collegiate Chorale, and both groups tour together in the spring.

Under the direction of Nevalyn Moore, instructor in music, the group works hard to perfect the sound and motion of each bell. The handbell group adds uniqueness and creativity to the chorale's performances.

Campus Times

Campus Times is a literary work of Campbellsville College. Campus Times is a newspaper that is published six times a year. The newspaper staff is primarily made up of volunteers. Anyone who is interested in journalism or any aspect of a paper is welcome to submit stories or become a member of the staff.

Although the staff is voluntary, their writing talents can be seen through the publication.

According to Editor Jennifer Zammert, "We have an incredible advisor who is lenient with freedom of the press but who is strict and cares about the work produced. The staff is dedicated and talented, and I am proud of their work."

The staff's advisor is Dr. Robert L. Doty, professor of English. Staff members include staff writers: Bethney Foster, Dave Jarvis, Kris Kell, Sandeep Nandkeolyar and Lynne Pendygraft. The staff photographer is Tammy Ridgway.

From the Editor

Starting a new year always makes one feel refreshed anew and ready to take on any kind of challenge. That is exactly how I felt at the beginning of this year.

I started my sophomore year excited about being on the "Maple Trail" staff. I had worked on my high school staff for three years, and I was familiar with the yearbook process. Little did I know so much had changed within the past three years.

In high school everything was done on Quad Paks, or, in other words, it was all hand done, but when I started the 1993 "Maple Trail," I found out that it was all done on computer. This was a big adjustment for me. I had been used to doing everything at home late at night, and now I had to arrange my schedule so that I could come to work on the computer because I only had access to it in the office.

Getting to know the computer language was kind of slow, and I still don't know it all. It seemed like every day I was calling the plant in Dallas, Texas to ask them for help.

I also had to learn how to work under my new bosses. This wasn't any problem. Joan McKinney and Connie Wilson are great. Oh, there were times when I had to bite my tongue, but this was during deadlines. Joan and Connie were such an instrumental part of this book. If it hadn't been for them proofing and learning computer commands, then the book would have been lacking.

I also had a great staff helping me. I could always call on Tamara Marsteller or Jamie Mings whenever I need a picture printed or one to be taken. They never complained even when they were backed up with other Public Relations work.

Missy Malone, Beth Foster and Lynne Pendygraft did so much for me and the book. Not only did they write some great articles for me, but sometimes they did it in as little as a day's notice. My sports writers, Neil Medley, Grant Miller and Chris Wolfe, also did a great job. At first, the layouts were a little rough, but once they got the hang of it they were terrific.

LeAnn Pepper and Bill Shavkey, who are no longer with the staff, also were very vital to the book. They, too, would whip out a story whenever I needed one. It seemed like Candy Jones could just glance at a proof and spot an error on the same page that I had studied for hours. Tammy Brummett did a great job of organizing the portrait pictures. Without her help, the classes would have never gotten sorted.

Another addition to the staff was a new Public Relations Director, Marc C. Whitt. Marc moved into the office in early December and made himself at home quickly. He was always supportive of the book and allowed us as much time as we needed to finish the book. Often he sacrificed something else just to help us. Tell Emily I said "Hi."

This year was a learning experience for me. I learned how to budget my time. Spending eight and 10 hours on the computer at a time really cuts in on one's study time. I learned how to work under pressure and how to keep calm in a crisis. Most importantly though, I learned that I can do all things through Christ who strengthens me. Because this was one crazy year, and if I hadn't been able to lean on Him, it would have been even more crazy.

I want to apologize for any mistakes. Like I stated earlier, this was a learning experience for me.

Again, thanks staff for putting up with my crankiness this year. It was a great one.

Colophon

Nine hundred and fifty copies of the 1993 Maple Trail, volume 65, were printed by Taylor Publishing Company at the plant in Dallas, Texas.

This 9 x 12-inch book has 192 pages printed on 80 lb. enamel paper. Smyth binding is used to attach the cover to the contents. The cover design consists of the College's new logo which was blind embossed. The cover is gray vellum with a maroon foil design.

The endsheet is a custom ragged edge design which features the College's new clock tower on page one.

A four-page color tip-in was used in the 1993 "Maple Trail."

Body copy is set in 10 or 12 pt. Malibu type. Captions and photography credits are set in 8 and 6 point, respectively. Headlines range from 24 to 60 point.

The entire book was submitted on computer disks on which was submitted page design and copy. Delmar Studios of Bardstown, Ky., received the bid to take individual portraits; other photos came from the Public Relations Office or were submitted by College employees or students.

The classifications of students was determined by their classification with the Student Records Office in the fall 1992 directory.

Thanks to all who made this book possible. We appreciate all the support and the loans of the pictures. We would like to thank the "Central Kentucky News-Journal" who loaned us pictures.

Thanks to Curtis Wright and the staff in Dallas for answering our many questions concerning the use of the computer in layout and copyfit.

Special thanks to Hugh Black, our Taylor representative, who always had good advice and a wife who always took good messages.
